The new tax law, commonly called the “Tax Cuts and Jobs Act,” is the biggest federal tax law change in over 30 years. Below are some significant changes affecting individuals and businesses. Note: Except where noted, the changes are effective for tax years beginning after December 31, 2017.

Individuals

Tax provisions that were eliminated:

- Personal exemption deductions are suspended.
- Phase-out of itemized deductions based on adjusted gross income (AGI) is suspended.
- Itemized deduction for home equity interest (other than acquisition debt) is no longer allowed.
- Itemized deduction for miscellaneous itemized deductions subject to the 2% floor are no longer allowed. Examples include investment expenses, unreimbursed employee business expenses, and tax preparation fees.
- Personal casualty loss and theft deductions are eliminated unless the loss is incurred in a federally declared disaster area.
- The moving expense deduction and income exclusion is allowed only to members of the Armed Forces (or their spouses or dependents).
- No charitable contribution deduction is allowed for a payment to a higher educational institution in exchange for the right to purchase tickets or seating at an athletic event.
- Alimony is not deductible by the payer nor includible in income by the recipient for agreements entered into after December 31, 2018.
- Effective for 2019, the shared responsibility payment under the Affordable Care Act for not having minimum essential health insurance coverage is zero.

Tax provisions that were reduced:

- The 2018 individual income tax brackets are:

| Single                           | MFJ or QW                        |

Businesses

Tax provisions that were eliminated:

- There is no longer a separate tax rate for personal service corporation's (PSCs).
- The two-year carryback provision for net operating losses (NOLs) has been eliminated except for certain losses.
- There is no meals and entertainment deduction for membership dues or activities generally considered to be entertainment, amusement or recreation.
- AMT for C corporations has been repealed.

Tax provisions that were reduced:

- All taxable income of a C corporation is taxed at a flat rate of 21%.
- The 70% dividends received deduction is reduced to 50%. The 80% dividends received deduction is reduced to 65%.
- The net operating loss deduction (NOL) is limited to 80% of taxable income.

Tax provisions that were increased:

- An individual taxpayer generally may deduct 20% of qualified business income from a partnership, S corporation, or sole proprietorship. In the case of a partnership or S corporation, the deduction applies at the partner or shareholder level. The deduction is disallowed for specified service trades or businesses when taxable income exceeds the threshold amount.
- Special (bonus) depreciation is increased to 100% of property acquired and placed in service after September 27, 2017, with a new phase-down schedule for years after 2022. The new law allows special depreciation for both new and used property.
- The Section 179 deduction is increased to $1,000,000 and the phase-out threshold amount increased to $2,500,000.
- The new law expanded the definition of Section 179 property to include certain property used predominantly to furnish lodging.
- The depreciation limitations for luxury automobiles have been increased.
